7. Download driverTutor Fix - a free utility developed by 1 Download.Q: Changing app icon for Universal app in code I'm working on developing a universal app and I'm using the YAML command to get the "startapp.bat" file. (I then use this path as a parameter to UniversalMainClass to do some other stuff) The problem I have is that the latest Windows 10 update changed the app icon to a XAML file and it's in the /Assets/AppName/Resources/ folder. I want to use my own icon for my app that's in the resources folder of my project, and in the local phone's storage. Now, if I do this: `Icon = new BitmapImage(new Uri("ms-appx:///../Assets/AppIcon.png", UriKind.Relative));` The icon is changed but I get this warning: Attempting to use an old `Windows.UI.Xaml.Media.Imaging.BitmapImage` to set the icon for a resource named "ms-appx:///Assets/AppIcon.png" If I do this, I get a different warning: Setting IconSource of the built-in icon 'GenericApp' for AppName of {my path} /Assets/AppIcon.png. Will use the app icon that matches the current build configuration. Warning: File {my path} /Assets/AppIcon.png is invalid And if I do this, I get no icon at all: `var appIcon = await ApplicationIcon.Current;` if (`appIcon != null`) { `Icon = new BitmapImage(new Uri("ms-appx:///" + appIcon, UriKind.Relative));` } So how do I set my own icon for my Universal app? Edit: I just tested this: `var appIcon = new BitmapImage(new Uri("ms-appx:///Assets/AppIcon.png", UriKind.Relative)); var`
