DENVER — With one of the best pitchers in baseball on the mound, the Colorado Rockies can look to all the sluggers up the middle to bail them out — Carlos Gonzalez is back, right? Not really. In a 5-2 loss to the Houston Astros on Wednesday, Gonzalez delivered a pinch-hit, three-run homer to put the Rockies on the brink of elimination. Pinch hitters have hit homers in 16 postseason games this year, and they're coming from all over. "We don't have a lot of room for error in that spot," Manager Walt Weiss said of Gonzalez in an interview after the game. "Any time you can bring him in there and get a hit like that, that's going to be huge, especially against good pitchers. When you're in that situation, you need him." Gonzalez did not start in left field on Wednesday, the left-hander Ryan McMahon taking his place. Instead, with the Rockies batting in the seventh, Weiss sent out Gonzalez to pinch-hit for Kyle Freeland. He stepped in, and the ball went off his glove. For reference, Gonzalez entered Wednesday's game batting .272 with two home runs and 10 RBIs this season, and he has a career .318 batting average.

Second, it encourages them to engage in health-compromising behaviours. This study uses the health-promotion model to classify some of the most widely read magazines as either health-promotion focused or health-disease prevention focused. Analysing consumer magazines in terms of their health goals may enable advertisers and policymakers to target messages to those with specific health needs.

[Updated]: The Museum of the History of Polish Jews in Łódź, Poland has opened for a week (September 28 - October 2), for the first time since World War II. In an interview with CT, Pawel Kowalski, the Director of the Museum, explained that the opening of the exhibition will be accompanied by public events, and the history behind the exhibits will also be uncovered during the week. "In addition to our visitors, we also have members of the local community, who are extremely interested in the topic," Kowalski remarked, adding that the exhibition will include "some 80 exhibits" The Museum was originally established in 1964, however, back then the exhibition was located in a different location in the Old Synagogue, which also housed the "Delimitation of Rabbi's Office" of Moria Gomel. In 1992, the Museum was moved to its current location, where it has been operating ever since. The exhibition was originally divided into two sections: "Jewish Life in Łódź in the 20th Century" and "The Jewish Past in Łódź". However, as part of the renovation and expansion of the Museum, which was completed in 2015, the Museum's exhibition was divided into seven sections: "Jewish Life in Łódź before the 20th Century," "The New Łódź: Jewish Life in the Land of

The renovation of the Museum was also designed to introduce the historical artifacts to a wider audience, including school children. This was made possible due to the use of touch screen tables, the Museum's brand-new audio guide, and the installation of new lighting. While many of the exhibits are new, the most important part of the exhibition - which is currently being transferred and built - is a "collection of records from Jewish society
