Disk	Size
 Disk 4 (ST31000520AS, CC32 )	932 GB
 Disk 3 (ST31000520AS, CC32 )	932 GB
 Disk 2 (ST31000520AS, CC32 )	932 GB
 Disk 1 (ST31000520AS)	932 GB

At the bottom of the screenshot, the text 'Data Protection: Parity' is visible.
